

Organic Growth Loops & Advocacy Mechanics

Growth Strategy: Because Kaeluma is 100% free with no advertising budget, we grow purely through word-of-mouth (virality) and community recommendations. Parents share tools that solve their problems. Our goal is to make sharing simple and rewarding.

1. The Kaeluma Referral Loop

Since the app is entirely free, we do not offer financial credits or premium months. Instead, we use a Value-for-Value Social Loop:

Parent experiences morning calm using Kaeluma

- App prompts parent to "Share the Peace" after a 7-day streak
- Parent copies invitation template to a local group chat (WhatsApp, Slack, PTA)
- New parents sign up for free, ad-free routine help
- New parent experiences success → repeat

2. Lever 1: "Share the Peace" Parent Templates

We place a quick-share widget in the Parent Overview Dashboard Sidebar and in the footer of the Weekly Progress Emails (sent via Resend).

Custom Sharing Prompts (Parents can copy-paste in one click)

For Parent Group Chats (WhatsApp / iMessage / Messenger)

"Hey everyone, if anyone else is struggling to get their kids to brush their teeth and get dressed in the morning, check out Kaeluma (kaeluma.com). It's a free app built by a developer dad that turns routines into a quest board where kids earn gold coins. No ads, no subscriptions. It completely ended our morning arguments."

For Social Media Posts (Facebook / Instagram)

"We started using a gold coin economy in our house to manage morning routines. The kids earn coins for their chores, and they use those coins to 'buy' their screen time. It's ad-free, completely free, and built by an indie dad. Highly recommend: kaeluma.com 🍌"

3. Lever 2: Built-in Milestone Prompts

We prompt parents to share their kids' wins at key emotional milestones in the app:

| MILESTONE EVENT       | PARENT EMOTIONAL STATE            | PROMPT ACTION                                                                                                     |
|-----------------------|-----------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Kid Reaches Level 5   | Pride in child's consistency      | Show celebration card: "Your child is Level 5! Click here to download a custom accomplishment badge to share."    |
| First Reward Redeemed | Relief that the system works      | Show popup: "Your child just earned their first reward. Share this visual economy system with a friend."          |
| 7-Day Streak Achieved | Excitement that the routine stuck | Nudge: "7 days of morning routines without nagging. You've earned a coffee! Share the peace with another parent." |

4. Lever 3: Niche Community Advocacy

The Homeschool Co-op Circle

Homeschool parents actively exchange tips for daily schedules.

- The Play: Reach out to homeschool Facebook group admins and offering Kaeluma as a free, ad-free schedule helper. Ask them to feature it in their resource list.

The ADHD Support Network

ADHD parent groups (CHADD, local forums, ADHD subreddits) are constantly looking for visual routine charts. Because Kaeluma is free and ad-free, it is welcomed in these groups where paid apps are flagged as spam.

- The Play: Share Kaeluma as an open-source visual aid resource, explaining the neuro-benefits of immediate coin feedback loops.

5. Lever 4: Build-in-Public Flywheel

Building in public on Twitter/X, Reddit, and Indie Hackers earns the support of the developer and product builder community, who will organically share and upvote the project.

6. Organic Growth KPIs Dashboard

Review these metrics weekly. If the Activation or Retention rates drop, stop marketing focus and fix the dashboard onboarding.
